Hospital for Sick Hedgehogs Comes to Florida!

Lowe also educates the community about how to create hog-friendly habitats in their gardens. “Lots of people spend £100 on a store-bought hedgehog house,” she says, “which is wonderful, but it’s better to donate that money to a rescue and make one yourself.” All you need is a plastic storage box: cut a five-inch hole in it, and put bowls of cat food and water inside. Weigh down the box with bricks

Hospital for Sick Hedgehogs Comes to Florida!

Hedgehogs are brought to us by members of the public, local veterinary practices with whom we have fostered good relations, and by other welfare organisations. Our aim is always to rehabilitate hedgehogs and release back to their natural environment. Using Google mapping, we plot the distribution of hedgehogs in Gloucestershire to identify those areas where they are thriving, those where they are scarce and areas where hedgehogs have disappeared entirely. This assists us in making decisions about areas suitable for reintroduction and possible release sites for hedgehogs that cannot be returned to the place where they were

Anti-Tank Hedgehogs Stop Russian Vehicles!

As Russian troops advance on Ukraine's capital, antique anti-tank hedgehogs were brought out from a museum exhibit and placed at a roadblock in Kyiv to stop Russian military vehicles. The anti-tank hedgehogs were used against Nazi tanks during World War II. Russian forces have moved about three miles closer to Kyiv in the past 24 hours, according to a senior US defense official. Russia's military could be as close as nine miles 15km from the city center. According to a United States-based
